

DINO DIANE'S ADVENTURES

LEARNING THROUGH ADVENTURE

Adventurer and Award-Winning Science Teacher...

D. J. KRISTOFF

has backpacked America's Southwest, whitewater rafted through the Grand Canyon, and dug dinosaurs at the excavation site of paleontologist Jack Horner, the dinosaur expert depicted in Jurassic Park. Now, Kristoff is on a mission to inspire today's young people to come out of their electronic caves, strap on their hiking boots, and discover a natural world much bigger than their screens, building confidence, self-reliance, and resilience.

HARRY POTTER MEETS INDIANA JONES MEETS JURASSIC PARK

From digging dinosaurs and holding a wild bear's head in her lap to tickling a fish, Kristoff's exciting adventures explore geology, paleontology, and the history of the old Wild West. She instills a love for "learning through adventure" into her spine-tingling book series and presentations that will enliven, inspire, and entertain students, parents, and teachers alike!

"An enjoyable read for all ages, this extraordinary blend of fiction and nonfiction delivers the pure joy of adventure and important secrets of the heart that are timeless."

— Jack Canfield, Coauthor of the Chicken Soup for the Soul® series
